ONE RACING WORLD

During the month of October two events took place which proved to be of particular significance in that they served to indicate the present day trend of racing. The first was the Manhattan Handicap at Belmont Park at a mile and a half, won by Flying Fury (*Nasrullah—Eicily by Reaping Reward), a feat which put $37,600 in the pockets of his breeder and owner Harry F. Guggenheim. This four year old colt, a stakes winner as a two year, but a disappointment last year, had won three times previously in 1956, all of them over hurdles at Monmouth Park and was schooled over four fences the day before the Manhattan.

Time was when the conversion of a flat horse to jumping was universally considered a down grading move, not merely because purses for jumping races are on the average much lower, but also because the possibility of his returning thereafter to running with success on the level was thought to be virtually nil. But the case of Flying Fury, which is only one out of many in recent years, points up the fact that jumping races not only provide race track management with a higher percentage of winning favorites and a variety in the afternoon card which is attractive to the general public, and bring in to racing a most desirable element in the people who ride jumpers themselves in the show ring and hunting field, but also offer to trainers an often effective method of reclaiming flat horses which for one reason or another have gone stale or which prefer the longer distances characteristic of racing over obstacles.

The second event was the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe, run over the Longchamp turf course near Paris at the same distance, and won by the incomparable Ribot, crowning glory of the late Signor Tesio's extraordinary achievements as a bloodstock breeder, and a horse which the verdict of time may well place among the immortals of turf history. Also competing in the race were Career Boy and Fisherman, sons of the Virginia-bred Phalanx, which their owner C. V. Whitney, with characteristics good sportsmanship, flew across the Atlantic to inaugurate a new era of air invasion by American race horses. What makes this era possible is the tremendous increase in turf racing which has taken place in this country during the past decade. Purses have been increased to such an extent that many of our best horses now run on grass, just as they do abroad.

THE CHRONICLE

After Fisherman forced the pace by going out in front during the first part of the race, Career Boy took up the running for the Stars and Stripes. Up to the point where the horses started down the decline which leads to the finish he looked like coming in a good second, but on encountering this slope which was altogether new to him, he lost his stride for a few lengths and was able to manage only a close fourth.

With the exception of Santa Anita, American turf courses at the major tracks are practically as flat as our dirt tracks. But there are a number of turf courses of European type in this country where flat races are run regularly, namely the hunt meeting courses. Considering the recent changes which have taken place in the relationship between jumping and flat races as exemplified by Flying Fury's Manhattan, it is surely quite possible that American candidates for the Arc de Triomphe and the Epsom Derby may soon be found training and even running at courses and meetings such as Middleburg and Rolling Rock. At the stud farms, over jumps and on the flat, racing is indeed becoming one world.

Dear Sir:

How a casual sentence of mine, taken from a personal letter to a friend last July, could possibly have reached the pages of The Chronicle, I will never know. It was a most distressing experience to encounter it there. Had I been writing to The Chronicle, I would have used carefully chosen words, polished up my gram-

REVIEW OF THE WEEK

Nashua Retires With A Victory Two-Mile Jockey Club Gold Cup, Setting New American Record

Charles Lamb

(Raleigh S. Burroughs is on vacation)

All the world loves a champion!

There is no more thrilling spectacle than watching an acknowledged sports peer at his best, whether in racing, baseball, boxing or golf. Champions make possible the big purses, the fat salaries and the million dollar gates.

But all too many title-holders tarnish their halos by competing after reaching their peak. Babe Ruth popping up weakly to the infield as a part-time player with the Boston Braves and a flabby Joe Louis being butchered by heavyweights he would have sent into dreamland in two rounds in his prime are memories the sports world would like to, but can't quite, forget.

Fortunately, because of their progenital value, Thoroughbred racing's champions are spared the ignominy that befell Ruth and Louis, and others.

No champion ever made a more fitting farewell appearance than Nashua last week in marching to victory in the Jockey Club Gold Cup to the tune of an American record.

To the accompaniment of cheers from 38,264 hoarse throats, Nashua finished a powerful run down the Belmont stretch a bit more than two lengths in front of Greentree Stable's Riley, with Christopher T. Chenery's Third Brother another length and three-quarters away. His time for the two-mile route was 3.20 2/5, two-fifths of a second faster than the U. S. mark registered by Market Wise in taking the 1941 Gold Cup.

Nashua's three-year record of 22 wins four seconds and a third in 30 starts is not an all-time best, but his total earnings of $1,288,565 is a peak that may not be attained again for many decades.

With Eddie Arcaro in the saddle, of course, Nashua became the first Thoroughbred to annex the Gold Cup at three and four years of age and the first four-year-old to win the event since Pavot turned the trick in 1946.

In his farewell, the son of *Nasrullah never looked better, as his American record will attest.

Arcaro got Nashua to the front at once and the champ's challengers were reduced to half a dozen at once when Cain Hoy Stable's Flying Fury tossed his rider, Pete Anderson.

Past the stands the first time, Mister Gus, Nashua's conqueror in the Woodward Stakes, and Third Brother were in closest attendance, followed by Honeys Alibi, Salmon and Riley.

Angel Valenzuela moved Third Brother up to challenge along the backstretch and for a few brief seconds the Chenery color-bearer had his head in front. But Arcaro went to work with both hands and Nashua again took over rounding the final turn and stayed there.

Third Brother dropped back gradually as Riley rushed up to take second money of $10,000. Nashua earned $36,000 as a going away present for his trip to Kentucky and a lifetime of ease.

As usual, he was an odds-on favorite and returned an $3.50, $2.80, $2.40 across-the-board-mutuel.

Another son of *Nasrullah, Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler, made it a great day for the Irish-bred stallion, Arcaro and trainer Jim Fitzsimmons when he repeated Nashua's two-length triumph in the sixty-seventh running of the Futurity.

In becoming the leading candidate for the 1957 Kentucky Derby via his seventh triumph in eight starts, Bold Ruler sped the six and a half furlongs down Belmont's Widener course in a fast 1.15 1/5.

The only colt to ever beat him, Llan-gollen Farm's Nashville, was a distant sixth as Fred W. Hooper's Greek Game nosed out George D. Widener's Amarullah for runner-up honors.

Bold Ruler's net purse of $91,145 sent his total earnings thus far in his freshman campaign to $139,050, more than $50,000 behind Nashua's gleanings in his initial season.

The forty-first week of racing of 1956 was high-lighted by the end of the racing road for another great campaigner and the temporary, at least, shelving of still another.

Italy's Ribot wrote finis to an undefeated career by humbling 19 rivals, including C. V. Whitney's Career Boy and Fisherman, in the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe near Paris before 100,000 spectators and Swaps, the 1955 Kentucky Derby winner who has amassed nearly $850,000 to challenge Nashua, suffered a leg injury that will keep him from the track until next summer, at least.

The California Comet broke down at Garden State Park while breezing and X-ray pictures showed two small cracks in his left hind cannon bone.

HAWTHORNE'S GOLD CUP

All the gold ($129,850) of the Gold Cup, Hawthorne's richest race in its 66 years, went East as Jan Burke's Dedicate scored by a head over Mrs. John W. Galbreath's Summer Tan, with Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Find taking third money after leading early.

Steeplechasing at Belmont

Shipboard, Assigned 164 Pounds Captures
$25,000 Grand National Steeplechase

John E. Cooper

With the steeplechase season fast approaching a climax with the running of the testing three mile Grand National and the rich Temple Gwathmey, Marion Scott's mighty Shipboard made his bid for yearly honors by capturing the $25,000 National on Monday, October 8th, with consummate ease despite his weight assignment of 164 lbs. Running and jumping in faultless fashion, he showed who's the "Boss Hoss" by coming up to the finish line twelve lengths in the van of Glencannon, who was an equal distance in front of His Boots. A length further back Sundowner took the short end of the stake with Basilia and Coveted among the also-rans.

Two other starters completed the eight horse field. Morpheus, the surprise winner of the Brook Steeplechase, lost his rider John Knowles three fences from home, but appeared to be a beaten horse at the time. The other casualty was Mrs. H. T. McKnight's *Colorado Prince, who literally crashed into the third fence, the front field liverpool. He was ridden by Paddy Smithwick, and just as his rider started to guide him for the take-off, *Colorado Prince put in another one, and his front feet went into the open ditch. It was destined to be his final start, and Smithwick suffered a broken vertebrae which will keep him in a cast for several months.

For almost two of the three miles, Coveted and Glencannon see-sawed for the lead, with Allison Stern's color bearer finally succeeding in putting away Coveted the second time past the stands. Morpheus and Shipboard were third and fourth in the order mentioned, both under restraint. Turning in to the far side the last time, Albert Foot started moving up with Shipboard, and the gelded son of Battleship responded like a champion. Moving by Morpheus and Coveted at the fifteenth and sixteenth fences, Shipboard drew even with Glencannon going to the 17th, then jumped into a daylight lead going to the far turn. Approaching the next to last fence, where he had come to grief in both the National and the Gwathmey last year, Albert Foot eased his mount slightly, and Murt Hoey on Glencannon closed a three length gap to almost a length. A murmur arose from the crowd, sensing an upset, for Shipboard at 7 to 5 carried the hopes and most of the money in the crowd. However, once over safely, Foot let down a notch or two, and it was all over. Rounding into the stretch he was on top by three, at the final jump, five, and under the wire to an easy score.

It was Shipboard's second start and second win of the 1956 season. He completed the course in a modest 5.50 1/5, over soft going, and well off the track mark. His mistress netted $19,500, and a handsome trophy which was presented to her in the winners enclosure by Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark, accompanied by trainer Ray Woolfe and rider Albert Foot. Before the official sign went up, and to the surprise of many, Murt Hoey on Glencannon lodged a claim of foul against the winner, claiming that Foot had jumped out across him at the fence on the far turn the last time. After reviewing the film, the Stewards disallowed the claim which appeared frivolous to many.

Fred W. Hooper, whose name is better known in flat racing, occasionally sends a jumper postward, and several years ago, he had a pretty fair one in Emergency Hour. On Tuesday, a possible successor for that one came down to the wire three lengths on top, the three-year-old, Olympia's Ace. Making his third start through the field, he and Hellanicus bumped at the start, consequently got off slowly, but was rushed up fast by Bob McDonald, then engaged Nizam's Pet for the lead, and with that one it was nip and tuck for about a mile. Drawing out around the final turn, Olympia's Ace won with something in reserve. Scout Mission closed well to garner the place, while Nizam's Pet dropped back to third. This race at a mile and a half over hurdles was restricted to three-year-olds, and drew nine starters, some of which give promise of developing into 'chasers next year.

The following day, a claiming hurdle race at two miles drew a ten horse field, and resulted in a mild upset, the first three at the finish being outsiders in the betting. The winner was Mrs. M. G. Walsh's Mummers Knot, a four-year-old filly making her second start through the field, two in a row. Ridden by John Cotter, she went to the front shortly after the start, and with good rating held her field safe to win by two lengths with something left. *Heureux 2nd ran a consistent race to be the runner up a length in front of *Cottage Flame. Both the last mentioned made a run at the winner from the final hurdle to the wire, but weren't good enough. War Rhodes was third at the final hurdle, but dropped back to fourth in the stretch run. The favorite, Mr. United could do no better than fifth.

The result of the Gay Charles, a mile and three quarter hurdle race on Thursday, October 16th, produced a happy result for a few, and a lot of regrets for others. Some years ago, Rigan McKinney pur-

Irish Classics of 1956

Philip De Burgh O'Brien

It is a reflection on the standard of racing in Ireland that all five winners of these events should have been trained elsewhere - four in England and one in France. All were Irish-breds.

It would appear that there are few Irish owners or breeders who can afford to concentrate on winning a classic or two, in preference to the selling of top racing stock abroad, particularly yearlings. This despite the increased value of the Irish classics and semi-classic races.

The element of luck, too, enters into this. For instance, American owner, Mrs. Anne More O'Ferrell (nee Bullitt) had seconds in Atlantida and Jongleur, while other horses of potential and classic breeding failed in the big tests.

The winners of the Irish 2,000 gns. (Lucero); Derby (Talgo) and Oaks (Garden State) were all sold at Ballsbridge sales, very reasonably. The St. Leger winner, Magnetic North, bred by F. B. O'Toole, of Rhode, Offally, Eire, sold at Ballsbridge for only 600 gns. He was definitely not expected to beat the Irish winner of the Blandford Stakes, Jongleur, in our St. Leger, but in the race fairly and squarely outstayed him in the fourteenth furlong to win by three lengths. Neither Persian God or the Epsom Derby runner-up, Roistar (fourth) could stay the pace with either.

Lucero is well regarded, even if he has not run since winning the Irish 2,000 gns, due to injury. Talgo ran very creditably in the Doncaster St. Leger, until he had belatedly to mend once the 12 furlong mark was reached. Distance was too far for him. Garden State, winner of the Oaks, and like Talgo by the young Nearco sire, Krakatau, has since been sold to America.

Magnetic North is not classically bred, being by stayer Borealis out of Melitensis by Canon Law ex Golden Grain by Trigo. He is a horse likely to do well in the longer distance races of 1957 such as the Gold Vase or Gold Cup, over a distance of ground at Ascot. This type would not do for America, whereas Jongleur by Sayajirao and classically bred, would be ideally suited at 12 furlongs, or less. Solonaway, sire of Lucero and also sire of Summer Solstice, winner in America, is one of the most under-rated sires in this country. Summing up, in 1956 we bred lots of classic winners, only to find them sent out of the country to be trained elsewhere.

The Irish two-year-old position is very promising. In such as Isle of Shine (winner of 5 of her 6 races) and Refined (winner of his only two races including the Phoenix Stakes, in a canter), also Skindles Hotel, like Refined trained by Prendergast, and the fastest 5 furlong horse in the British Isles, we have abundant talent on hand. I wonder how many of these promising horses will be around in Ireland next year!

VIRGINIA

Chenery Buys French Mares

C. T. Chenery of The Meadow, Doswell, Virginia, recently purchased through Tim Vigors, six mares in France from Mr. Maxime Fonlupt. All of these mares represent staying strains which Mr. Chenery feels will mate particularly well with his high class race horse and young stallion Brian G. The mares will be shipped to this country by boat sometime in October and the foals by air so that all will arrive in this country at approximately the same time. The list includes: Algarda (Niccolo Dell'Arca-Aspertina), filly foal by Tantieme, bred to Relic; Coca Cola (Fellstead-Arcola II), colt foal by Sicambre bred to Sicambre; Free Pass (Big Game-Fair Honey), filly foal by Worden, bred to Prince Bio; Giralda (El Greco-Joan Lowell), colt foal by Tabriz bred to Phil Drake; Manita (Deiri-Magda), filly foal by Goyama bred to Owen Tudor; and Vermiglia (Owen Tudor-Windsor Park), filly foal by Tehran, bred to Tantieme.

Acramitis topped the Australian Free Handicap with 131 lbs.

STUD MANAGERS COURSE

The Stud Managers course operated by the University of Kentucky, the Grayson Foundation and the American Thoroughbred Breeders Association and held in Lexington each autumn for the past five years, has been abandoned because of decreasing interest. The committee will assist in establishing regional courses for which there may be a demand and will publish in book form the principal lectures previously delivered at the course.

KEENELAND'S SPINSTER

The only wait for age stakes race for fillies in America is the $50,000 added The Spinster at one mile and a furlong which will have its inaugural running at Keeneland on October 19th. Among the nominees include thirteen winners of stakes this year from the handicap division and seven from the three-year-old division.

BLOOD TESTING

Dr. H. C. Brenon, of the Brenon Laboratory, Inglewood, Calif., has reported on blood tests given 207 racing Thoroughbreds at Hollywood Park. Indications of the study are that a high blood count may be a factor in racing ability since those horses with the highest count consistently ran well, whereas horses with low counts made poor showings or did not run at all. For all the horses tested, the average mean red corpuscle count was 6.8 million per cubic millimeter of whole blood. Six horses from the top ten tested had a corpuscle count ranging from 10 million to 13.2 million per cubic millimeter. Any corpuscle count below 6.3 million appeared to point to a subclinical dyscrasia affecting the horse's racing ability. Consideration must be given to all other factors involved in racing before placing too much weight on the blood tests. However, this test gives an index of the stamina and physical condition of the animal which proves valuable indeed to the trainer or owner attempting to race a horse only at its peak condition. Dr. Brenon feels that the blood test might well become part of the routine clinical care and advice offered by track veterinarians.

DUNNE HEADS TRA SELECTION BOARD

Francis P. Dunne, racing secretary of Tropical Park, Coral Gables, Florida, is chairman of the board of 22 racing secretaries representing the 40 member tracks of the Thoroughbred Racing Association which will name the champion race horses of 1956.

GOOD BUY

Just before the 8th running of the Michigan Mile Stakes at Detroit, Peme Lee Grissom of Duntreath Farm, Lexington, Kentucky, bought Nonnie Jo from his owner James L. Paddock for $25,000. The agreement was that they would split the purse if the horse won. He did just that and Mr. Grissom received half of $38,900 (the winner's share of the $50,000 Added Purse) to apply on account of the purchase price.

LLANGOLLEN MULE

In addition to the varied group of some thirty Thoroughbreds of all ages consigned by the Llangollen Farm, Upperville, Virginia, is a Palomino mule, who is not only a good lead pony, but can jump as well.

ART EXHIBITION AT LAUREL

John Schapiro of Laurel Park is planning a "Racing at Laurel" competition for artists culminating in an exhibition of their work during the autumn meeting.

Alerted

STAKES WINNER OF 20 RACES AND $440,485

The "Iron Horse," after starting in 104 races and winning 12 stakes, 20 races and earning a part of the purse 67 times, is embarking on his third season in stud—and still perfectly sound. One of the most versatile horses in American turf history, Alerted won stakes from six furlongs to the one and three-quarter mile Saratoga Cup.

Alerted, a horse of tremendous courage, defeated Battlefield in the Discovery, Hall o' Fame and Counterpoint in the Jerome, County Delight in the Dixie, Crafty Admiral and Mamaluke in the Healey, General Staff in the Olympic, One Hitter in the Saratoga Handicap and such other stakes winners as Royal Vale, Spartan Valor, Oil Capital, Greek Ship, Auditing, To Market, Quiet Step, Cold Command, Uncle Militie, Grecian Queen, etc.

Being a son of the great sire, Bull Lea, is enough to qualify a horse for stud duty. He has led the American sire list five times in the past nine years and has produced the world's leading money-winning horse, mare and gelding—Citation, Bewitch and Armed. Alerted's female line is almost as imposing. His dam, Hastily Yours, has produced eleven foals of racing age. Nine have started and all have won, including F. B. Eye ($78,985), Eagle Speed ($48,927) and Lickety Cut ($35,835). She is a full sister to the stakes producer Rash Hurry and half-sister to Cavalcade, champion 3-year-old of 1934.

Toronto & No. York Pony Club Horse Trials

The Canadian Pony Club - Toronto and North York Hunt Branch - staged a One Day Horse Trials on September 18th at Aurora, Ontario. The Novice Dressage Test was used for both C's and B's and the area was marked out with short stakes with a white tape running from top to top of the stakes and wound around each. The tapes moved slightly in the wind but did not seem to bother the horses. This would seem an excellent idea for all Pony Club officials as the cost is slight, the erection is easy and fast, and storage of such equipment takes very little space.

The two mile Cross-Country course of 16 obstacles not over 3'6" was held on the Hunts' Bererley Farm property. The stadium jumping was held in S. P. Jarvis' show ring. Very attractive and tricky was the course which demanded alert horsemanship. The Toronto and North York C. Team was elated to defeat the Eglinton Hunt Branch C Team.

In addition to C Teams there were C and B individual awards. There were no B entries from Eglinton, but Jane Holbrook of the Ancaster Branch competed in the B section. Best combined total for B's was earned by Veronica Beatty of the T. & N. Y. Branch on her mare Melody over Angus Pickford from the same Branch, Dinny Burns and Danny Fitz. Top scores among the C's were earned by Lyn Kerr, T. & N. Y.; Ann Padfield, Eglinton; Suzanne Levison and Ken Robson, T. & N. Y. The above three North Yorkers made up the winning C Team.

Fairfield County Pony Club

During the Junior Hunt season, which is our cubbing time and serves to initiate new riders, as well as the young hound entry, the Fairfield County Hunt was host to members of the Fairfield Pony Club. Junior Joint Master Patsy Bulkley led the field of about 40, including a few adults who turned out.

The Mill Hill covert was first drawn and a fox soon started. He circled in the woods for about an hour, giving the youngsters the opportunity to observe some good hound work at close range. This fox finally going to ground, the huntsman, Joe Avery, took hounds across Cedar Road, with the intention of drawing up back of John Hersey's. Hardly had they entered the woods, however, when hounds suddenly took off like smoke on what was apparently a cub they had surprised. They flew over the fields below Hersey's and through Mr. LaRoche's, where it was necessary to lift them, as the section is too built up.

The huntsman then drew north of Salako's, giving the more adept riders the chance to enjoy some walls and fences, while the rest of the field, some of whom and some of whose ponies were too small to negotiate hunting fences, followed around by trail to Merwin's Lane. From there after drawing back through pretty much the same territory, the field returned to Mrs. Barbara Taylor's for a Hunt breakfast, sponsored by the Pony Club. S. P.

SHOW STORIES

A great many hopes came true when the rain stopped early Saturday morning and let the McLean Show proceed in fairly respectable weather. Both the outside course and the ring, which are kindly donated for the show each year by the Madeira School, provided interesting and unusual courses, and most of the classes were quite well filled.

School horses dominated the working hunter division, with the steady veteran, Snowball, finishing round upon round in fine style to take the championship, while her stablemate, Autocrat, carried Anita Graf to the reserve.

Snowball, excellently ridden throughout the day by Gay Hawkins, was not content with one championship and went on to take reserve honors in the junior division, behind another gray mare, Frosty, owned and ridden by Betsy Berry.

Kathleen Nolands lovely little green horse, Jaalma, took two blues and several other ribbons to be pinned small hunter champion over the Equitation School's machine-like April Dawn.

Gardner Hallman and Red Knight, one of the most popular combinations at the show gathered 22 points to sweep the jumper division, with Mr. & Mrs. Robert Gibbon's Bowie Gibbon following behind with 9 points.

As usual King of the Mountain ponies dominated their division, with Billy Boyce's Smokey Joe adding another tri-color to his huge collection, and Jimmy Zimmerman's Pinocchio earning the reserve. Pinocchio had to look to his laurels this week however, as he tied with Diedre Symington on her Easter Morning, and won only after a close hack off. T. B.

POCOMOKE CITY

Gintillian, a sleepy-looking little bay horse, owned and ridden by Robert Williams of Salisbury, had a winning streak at the Pocomoke Kiwanis Club Horse Show.

Mr. Williams rode him to the hunter championship of the day and got reserve championship in the jumper division. Scoring that many points in both hunter and jumper divisions by the same horse seldom happens.

SPRING VALLEY

The Spring Valley Hounds held their twenty-eighth annual horse show on September 8, 1956. The weather was perfect and their spacious ring and outside course in excellent condition. It was the largest show presented here.

There were several trophies awarded outside of the regular show and the Spring Valley Hounds Masters Trophy was one of these. It was presented to Mr. John G. Gaston in recognition of consistent performance of mount and rider in the hunting field during the 1955-56 season. This trophy was awarded to Mr. Gaston by the Joint Masters, Mrs. Gustav Koven and Mr. Robert G. Fairburn.

Trophies were also given to Miss Susan Coffin and Crofton Held for sportsmanship and effort throughout the show.

Miss Ann C. Voorhees retired two of the coveted Challenge trophies when she won the third leg on the "Wrist Watch" Trophy presented by Mrs. Darragh Park, Jr. for horsemanship on the flat and the third leg on the Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Chapman Challenge Trophy for the Junior Division Champion.

CECIL COUNTY FAIR

A wide variety of prizes, including total cash awards of $1,500, trophies, and ribbons were awarded Saturday, Sept. 15th, at the Cecil County Breeders' Fair Horse Show.

The six general classifications of the contests, which began at 8:30 A. M. were: Pony breeding classes; ponies; other than registered Shetlands; hunter breeding classes; working hunter classes; children's classes; and western classes.

Miss Patricia duPont of Elkton was chairman of the horse show committee, while Mildred E. M. Pike served as secretary. Other members were William duPont, Jr., William A. Shelton, Jack R. Caddell, and Dr. E. L. Symington, show veterinarian.

The show operated under the rules of the American Horse Show Inc.

AM. LEGION CHARITY

Ribbons were amazingly well divided here. Though Gail Kugler's Ivy Ridge won both open working classes, consistency throughout the show gave the hunter tricolor to young Juanita Andre on her spotted Saucy Sue with Janice Lloyd's Irish Lad in for reserve. The latter has been one of the most consistent horses shown on the Associated Horse Shows circuit this season.

Juanita also claimed the reserve grand champion award with her Firefly, that grand pony shown by Bobbie Gardner for so many years in the Maryland area. Recipient of the grand championship tricolor and winner of the Medal class was Connie Mertz who is one of the top young riders in this area.

Janice Hassinger's Handy Hogan (figuratively and literally) had a 1,000 average in the jumper division with ribbons in every class, while Marion Benson's hunter turned jumper, Little Bay, claimed the reserve spot. Fencepost

UPPER DARBY

As usual that grand old campaigner, Smokey Joe reigned supreme in the pony division. Behind jock Patsy Gorrell and Billy Boyce III's ageless Smokey came Mimi Cummin to cinch the reserve spot with her amazing two-year-old, Suits Me.

Betsy Lockhart's victory in the Medal now qualifies her for the Garden, making her the second junior in this area to qualify.

The Harry Gill's Over Timber won her second tricolor in as many years (green working last year) as she edged out last year's working champion, Cottage Den, by one point.

Libby (Mrs. F. T.) Hirst's Bright Eyes reached his season's peak so far and there was no stopping him and Bud Evans in the open classes. As has become customary, the well-known "clutch pair" of Martha Ferguson on her (and her husband's) Stone-crusher came through on top in the stake, thus cinching the reserve spot.

The green working division seemed like a repetition of Rose Tree, except that Bruce Wampler's championship with Ebb Tide was more decisive here. Pat Lockhart rode the mare to three blues and a second to wind up twelve points ahead of her nearest competitor, Linden Farm's Clockwise. Fencepost

MONMOUTH COUNTY

Often one reads of a clean sweep, but seldom have so many blues in one small show gone to one young girl and one very nice horse. It happened at the Monmouth County Show, Oceanport, N. J., on August 24-26. Every one of the five hunter classes and the championship were won by Miss Ann Voorhees of Summit and her Tamberlaine - plus the children's hunters' division.

ion and its four blues and championship, several equitation blues, and all the five perpetual trophies - every class in which she was entered.

The pony division, new at this show, filled well, with Thorn Ridge Farm's Firefly making many good rounds under Juanita Andre's excellent handling. Much remarked on was the new ring and outside course, planned by Mrs. Steven Wood, (who was unable to ride over it because of a broken hand). It is no doubt one of the finest set-ups in this country, and is due to the generosity of the Monmouth Race Track, who own Wolf Hill Farm, where this show is held.

QUENTIN RIDING CLUB

ional, closed after attracting 268 animals in 94 classes.

The three-day classic was run this year as a memorial to C. Maurice (Motz) Erdman, who had been secretary of the club and the show for twenty-one years. The program carried Erdman's portrait and Ringmaster Joseph B. Mulranen sounded taps to a standing record attendance after a eulogy to Erdman was given by Announcer Howard S. Fernsler.

The Duffy Stables' Dave Kelly provided a thrilling climax to the show in the final class, the jumper stake. The Duffys' Leprechaun went into the stake leading Bernie Mann's Riviera Wonder 20 to 15.

Kelly failed to get Leprechaun into the ribbons, but tied with Al Fiore on Riviera Wonder on board the Duffys' Andante. In the jump-off Kelly pushed the Mann entry back to second place and saved the championship for Leprechaun.

ROSE TREE

It seems that every time Sydney Gadd comes to Pennsylvania, success crowns his shoulders. Last year he and Atom Power won every green class at Rose Tree to take the green working tricolor back to Maryland. This year, in Syd's last week-end of showing before he leaves for college, the pair's consistency in the working division assured them the tricolor. Mrs. Henry D. Paxson's San Marco received the nod in the reserve hack off with Betty Baldwin's Jayber.

Sydney and Atom Power were replaced in the green tricolor area this year by another grey, Ebb Tide, well ridden by her college-bound owner Bruce Wampler. This mare is improving with every show and is one of the best mannered green horses showing this year. Reserve to Ebb Tide was Eggy Mills who's seldom been out of the tricolor area this season with Linden Farm's Clockwise.

THE CHRONICLE

Ronnie Houghton, one of the top junior riders in this area, climaxed his current showing success by winning the Best Child Rider Award. On September 10 he joins the freshman ranks at Penn State. Winner of both the big horsemanship classes and reserve in the best child rider ranks was that capable up and coming rider, Leslie Wadsworth who is doing such a nice job on her newly acquired Pincushion. LAKE OSWEGO

Usually, by the time the Oswego Fall Show takes place, Oregon is wading around in hip boots and rain coats. This year proved to be a pleasant exception, as the sun held strong throughout the three days.

The hunter classes were dominated during the show by Phar Rhona, owned by Mrs. Harry Samuals. This mare, who was brought out the first of the 1956 season, has moved in to dominate the open hunter classes faster and more consistently than, perhaps, any other green horse has done in the past ten years.

Shamrock, who is always ridden by the enthusiastic young Vicki Purcell, again maintained her good quality of performance to come out on top at this show. Brigadoon, also owned by the Purcell family, promises to be a threat in the near future. This young horse won the open jumper class and placed near the top in several others. C. McC.

Show Jumping In Britain

Its Rapid Progress During Last Ten Years

Lieut. Col. M. P. Ansell, C.B.E., D.S.O.

The general interest in the sport of show jumping has increased beyond all measure during the past ten years, and I believe that one of the major reasons for this 'boom' has been our success in the field of International sport; for, whoever we are, we do enjoy seeing our own side win.

Television has played its part by diffusing our interests to millions, and perhaps the horse appeals to many as a link with the traditional past, and an escape from the inglorious speed at which we live. Our shows are better produced, no longer catering solely for the connoisseur and his engrossing and (to the inexpert) incomprehensible preoccupation with shoulders and hocks, but providing excitement and variety in the form of a revue with that greatest of all artists, the horse, to fill the stage. Then there is the Pony Club, which now has a membership of 22,000 and teaches our youth to derive the greatest pleasure from its riding.

Undoubtedly there are many contributory factors, and they are independent. Television is no fairy godfather; its business is to find the best programmes, and the B.B.C. is not interested in a show unless it is exciting and runs to schedule. Without encouragement and instruction our riders could not succeed, and the public would not come to watch them. These, then, are the wheels within the machine that has brought jumping into the category of a National sport. The driving power of that machine has been provided by International victories, particularly since they came at a time when other successes in the International field were sparse.

In Britain, we did not turn our attention to the more artificial horse sports until after the war. Blessed with a climate that permits us to ride out-of-doors all the year round, and with what is certainly the best hunting country in the world, the Englishman was content to hunt in the winter and play polo in the summer. A few Army jumping teams went abroad in the thirties to show the flag, but they were not fully prepared and successes were few. Well do I remember one trip to America, and the calamity of the first few days. "These Englishmen have such delightful accents - if only they could ride as well as they talk" was one remark we heard. "I wonder why so much was spent on bringing the British team over - it seems such a waste." The disaster of our early ventures must, however, have inspired us, for we did manage to win three major competitions.

At the end of the second World War it was realised that the sport held great potentialities if it were guided in the right direction, and in 1947 we sent our first civilian team abroad. Little success came our way, and the Swiss were quite openly of the opinion that we should do better on bicycles - though four years later they conceded that we had the horses and were learning to ride them. The great value of that initial trip, however, lay in its teaching us just how bad we were. In that first team was Harry Llewellyn, who returned determined to vindicate our humiliation. Our first opportunity came the following year when, much to our surprise and joy, we won the Olympic bronze medals. In 1952 at Helsinki we attained the summit of our ambition.

A show jumping competition must, to succeed, provide enjoyment equally to horse, rider and spectator, and a course must be built so that, in the course of time, it will improve both the standard of horsemanship and the training of the horse. Before the war little thought was given to the building of courses, which the British Show Jumping Association realised, ten years ago, to be of fundamental importance. To improve them it has since worked unceas-ingly. Good fences are the first essential of good jumping. They must be varied and interesting - built so as to provide a definite test for the horse, but never to set a deliberate trap. Riders do not enjoy making fools of themselves, nor do spectators enjoy watching horses refuse or hit endless fences, so every endeavour must be made to encourage good jumping by the provision of fences that enable the horse to clear the greatest height with boldness and confidence. Another essential is the building of easy courses for young horses and for children, both of whom should be encouraged to complete the course.

The first step which we took to improve our courses was to place sets of perfectly-built fences in various parts of the country, to be hired for a nominal charge by affiliated shows; there are now some twenty sets in regular use. Five expert course-builders have been trained and appointed and are available to help any show upon request. The senior course-builder goes abroad with the team periodically to learn new techniques from other countries. A later development has been a series of lectures and demonstrations for the benefit of judges and show secretaries. Last winter nine conferences on judging and course-building were held in different parts of the country.

One of the greatest assets of our sport is the comparative simplicity of the rules, which not only enables the public to follow a competition intelligently but also precludes the doubtful decisions that occur in some sports. Two sets of rules are still in use in this country, F.E.I. (International) and B.S.J.A. (National), but the two codes are now almost identical. Changes in the latter have been brought about gradually, so that no upsets have been caused. It is difficult to persuade everyone that International rules provide for every type of competition, though it is muddling for both riders and spectators when two different sets of rules are used at the same show.

The judging in this country meets with general approval. All judges are registered, and they are kept au fait with any changes in rules at regular conferences. Before any new judge is appointed, he or she must have judged on several occasions with at least two recognised judges.

Show organisers are careful to include plenty of variety in their schedules for they realise that if a jumping competition is monotonous it will not draw crowds to the ringside, and there will be no 'gate' to cover expenses. Classes which provide a test of the horse's jumping capabilities are varied by events to test speed and obedience. The B.S.J.A. publishes exact details of many competitions that are very different in character, and advises show executives on the compilation of their prize lists. Racing would be dull, indeed, if every race were run over the same course and distance, and so it is with show jumping. To encourage the horses of the future, all the principal fixtures include a daily event for novices, and 'Foxhunter' competitions for horses whose winnings total less than 50 pounds. These have recruited many new horses and riders from the hunting field into the show ring.

Entries have become enormous, fifty in an open class and as many as ninety Grade C entries being commonplace in a show of any size. Consequently shows are encouraged to break up their classes into two or three sections with a final for the winners of each division. As each section has its own prize money, the awards are thus spread among a greater number of owners, and the unfortunate spectator is not forced to watch a tedious class for two hours or more before a result is arrived at.

The total prize money offered in jumping competitions today is some 80,000 pounds, which is about double that of six years ago. The normal first prize is 50 pounds at a big show, but a 'first' worth 300 pounds has been given, and the class that is worth 100 pounds to the winner is not unusual. We recommend that the International rule, concerning the provision of at least one prize for every five starters, should be adopted. Though we encourage the increase in prize money (for the cost of travelling horses increases each year), it is preferred that the prizes should be well 'spread' among the competitors rather than the winner receive ing a substantial sum while the runners-up get virtually nothing. This premise applies particularly to speed competitions in which split seconds separate the placed horses, and in sections of a competition to which there is a final.

It is also the policy of the association to encourage reduced entry fees, rather than high prize money and correspondingly large entry fees. Affiliated shows are advised to charge not more than 6d. in the pound of the total prize money or 2 1/2 cents on the dollar. At both the International and 'Horse of the Year' shows, half the entry fee is refunded to non-starters.

There can be no doubt that, carefully used, television can and has advanced the interest in show jumping very greatly. When the B.B.C. first approached us, we were advised that the televising of our big shows might have an adverse effect upon attendance figures, but we decided that the advantage of building up 'stars' for the benefit of the thousand-odd smaller shows would outweigh the risk of a decreased attendance at the London shows. As it happened, the attendance at the White City and Harringay has not been affected so far and television has helped the 'gate' at the smaller shows enormously. Show jumping lends itself remarkably well to television, for the cameras follow a pre-ordained route round the course, and the public can follow a competition intelligently after a preview explaining course-building and the style and training of horses and riders. A big competition is now one of the big 'draws' on television and the King George V Cup goes out to nearly 9,000,000 viewers.

After the war we realised that shows, if they were to survive, would have to compete with football, tennis, and the theatre in the field of entertainment on equal terms for the gentlemen who once were quite happy to pay up a show's losses in order to become Vice Presidents could no longer afford these luxuries. Thus, a show, to succeed, must appeal to the man who pays half-a-crown rather than a guinea, for his seat, and must be produced with the timing, colour and variety of any great theatrical revue. Our two big shows run to the second, and provide variety and excitement, as a result of which the attendance figures at the White City have risen from 50,000 to 110,000 in five years.

Above all, it cannot be stressed too greatly that any show must, to succeed, be enjoyed by the riders, the horses and the spectators, and the organiser must be not only a horseman but a producer as well. With his stage well set, he is fortunate in having it filled by the greatest artist of all - the Horse.

Charlottesville Downs Warrenton 4-3

It was the Charlottesville Polo Club that finally stopped the rampaging Warrenton Polo Club in a match played at Broadview, at Warrenton on Sunday Sept. 23rd. With six wins and two ties under its belt the Warrenton team bowed to Charlottesville with a final score of 4 to 3.

The first goal of the game was made by Warrenton's Buzz Rogers in the early minutes of the first chukker. The score was tied in the second when Carl Barrett took the ball from midfield with three long shots the third being the one to split the uprights. However Mary Gulick put the Warrenton Club out front again, using an under the neck shot which found its mark.

In the third chukker Doug Nickell thinking the score was a bit unbalanced for Charlottesville decided to do something about it, so with a beautiful offside back shot he tied the score once again.

The fourth period saw Col. West put Warrenton out front by one goal. Seconds later Don Bradley took the ball down the field and through the Warrenton uprights to tie the score for the last time.

The last goal of the game was made by Doug Nickell while he was being vigorously attacked by Warrenton's John Gulick. The ball had been passed from Roger Rinehart to Don Bradley who in turn found himself in hot water with Nickie Arundel beside him. Using an under the neck back shot he passed it to Nickell who split the uprights to decide the game.

Pan American Open

Martha O. Brown

Through the efforts of all the West Coast players, sparked by L. C. Smith, District Governor here for the U. S. Polo Association, San Francisco was able to play host to a Mexican Polo Team in a three game series, at Golden Gate Park, the last game being a benefit for the National Paraplegic Fund.

Joe DiMaggio was present as the National Chairman for the All-Sports Committee, under whose auspices the benefit for the Fund was held. It was really a sight to see Joe, mounted on a polo pony, properly helmeted, grasp a polo mallet exactly as he would a baseball bat, firmly in two hands, and a glint in his eye which said "I wonder if this pony will move out under me?"

The Mexican Team used San Francisco ponies, are mighty good players, showed excellent team work, and were well liked and highly regarded for their fair play and fine polo by the local players. The strange ponies proved a little too much for the Mexican boys the first game, and San Mateo-Concar Ranch romped home with a 10 to 5 victory. By the Wednesday game, which was a round robin, our Southern neighbors were more familiar with the horses, all Thoroughbreds including many famous South American and Hawaiian ponies - and were able to use some of their team strategy, beating the Golden Gate Team in the first three chukkers, 4 to 1, and the Stockton Team the second three chukkers, with a score of 8 to 2. The Stockton and Golden Gate Team played the last three chukkers to a 3 to 3 tie.

The first Sunday game started off with a beautiful piece of team work near the goal, Smith to Humphries to Linfoot, Bud chasing the ball through for the first goal. Patrick "Ace" Honey, No. 2 on the Mexico City Team, came back with a goal for their side, and in the next chukker brought in another goal, placing Mexico City ahead one goal. This spurred the San Mateo-Concar team to more action, Bud Linfoot brought in another goal and Fay Humphries' pony kicked in another goal for Concar, giving them a 3 to 2 lead at the end of the third chukker. While Cue, Honey and Gracida brought in a goal apiece in the 4th, 5th and 6th chukkers, bringing their score to 5 San Mateo-Concar caught on fire; Humphries brought in 2 goals, Linfoot 2 and Atkinson 3, giving San Mateo-Concar a 10 to 5 score.

In the first portion of the Wednesday round robin, each Mexico City player brought in a goal apiece, but Hiram King was the only one to score for Golden Gate. In the second portion, Mexico's Cue brought in 1 goal, Honey 1 goal, and Gracida upheld his family's polo fame with 4 goals, making the score in the second portion 6 to 2; Bill Hickey of the Stockton Team brought in 1 goal and hard hitting and hard riding Jack Conant the other marker.

The benefit game on the following Sunday played between San Francisco and Mexico City was highly spectacular. The first chukker was marred by a hard collision between two of the Mexico City players, young Anthony Cue being down for a couple of minutes, but he remounted and resumed play. In the first seconds of the game Pat Honey brought in a goal and another was scored by Anicz before the chukker was over. None for San Francisco. Anicz brought in another marker the second chukker, but Fred Cox and Todd Helser each brought in a score for SF. However, this was the last scoring for San Francisco until the last chukker when they caught on fire, too late. The third chukker saw a goal apiece by Honey and Gracida. The fourth was played hard with no scoring on either side. The fifth brought in another goal by Honey, bringing their score up to the final 6. San Francisco rallied in the sixth chukker, with a score apiece by Todd Helser and Dave Moore, but this only brought San Francisco up to 4, so Mexico City took home the beautiful trophies presented to the winners.

Letters To The Editor

mar, and never said anything that could possibly sound unkind.

As you know, when I visited The Chronicle, in Middleburg and Berryville, last spring, I was much interested in its problems. I have also written up horse shows and struggled to get the feeling of the show into the very small space allotted to it. It always seemed to me that, after editing, there were just a few words left to the effect that, although XYZ had campaigned valiantly, winning a blue in this class and in that, a red in another, and two yellows, he was outpointed for the championship by ABC, with, again, a listing of places won—all of this appearing just below in the summary. Now that the Horse Show Stories have been given a place of their own, and a bit more space, the writers can really have some scope and convey most interestingly and delightfully the flavor of each show.

Having been fortunate enough to be able to help a little in the cause of children's riding in the past two years, and finding therein the greatest pleasure and satisfaction, I would never belittle the efforts or speak unkindly of the enthusiasms of any horselover. From Shetlands to Thoroughbreds, from Hundred Mile Rides to National Horse Shows, I love them all.

Sincerely yours,
Alice Sherburne Reidy

chased Antagonizer from Arthur Preece, and McKinney won several races with him. When he disposed of his racing stables several years ago, the horse was bought by Mrs. Ogden Phipps, and subsequently won a number of good hurdle races, in fact holds the track record for the mile and a half at Saratoga. Antagonizer, after two wins earlier this season, came under the auctioneer's hammer last week. The high bidder - for $1,800 - Arthur and Terrence Preece. Two days later his name was in the entries for the Gay Charles, and the following afternoon, Antagonizer, now a nine-year-old, got the job done, winning (an allowance race) $2,470 first money, enough to pay his purchase price, the jock's fee, the trainer's per cent, and a little bit

Racing Review

First money was worth $80,750 to Dedicate, who closed favorite at $5.50 for $2 odds.

Ridden by Bill Boland, Dedicate raced close behind Find and Tussle Patch during the early furlongs. The latter began to run out of gas upon being straightened for home in the mile and a quarter test, completed in 2.02 2/5, and Dedicate rushed up to take over the lead in mid-stretch, and Summer Tan, never more than a couple of lengths out of it, hastened his drive.

Summer Tan, under the urging of Dave Erb, collared Find in the vicinity of the sixteenth pole and drew a bead on Dedicate. He made a game try in inching up gradually, but missed by a head as the Burke campaigner stuck doggedly to his task.

Summer Tan had gotten in a good tightener earlier in the week when he scored his first victory of the year in the $24,450 Vosburgh Handicap at Belmont.

With Eric Guerin doing the booting, Summer Tan earned the $17,200 top share of the purse by whipping Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Joe Jones, who came from far back in the seven-furlong spin, by a length and a half. Cockfield Stalbe's Le Beau Prince also closed a big gap in finishing another half a length out of it. Summer Tan was clocked in 1.24 3/5 over the fast track.

BROOKMEADE'S FLOWER BOWL

Brookmeade Stable's Flower Bowl hasn't won but two stakes, but when she sticks her soft nose in front at the wire it all adds up to $$$$. The stretch-running four-year-old picked up $40,100 by capturing the eighty-fifth running of the $58,200 Ladies Handicap at Belmont, beating King Ranch's Dotted Line by a length and three quarters at the end of the mile and a half.

Cain Hoy Stable's Brightest Star was another head away from top money and a neck in front of Christopher T. Chenery's Manotick. Flower Bowl, winner of the Delaware Handicap earlier this year, paid $9.60 as second choice after being clocked in 2.29 4/5, third fastest time in the eighty-fifth running of America's oldest stakes for fillies and mares.

QUAKER CITY 'CAP

Calumet Farm's Bardstown, a four-year-old who didn't get to the races until this year, upped his batting average to .667 with his eighth triumph in the $25,000 added Quaker City Handicap at Garden State Park before 31,745 fans.

Despite shouldering top weight of 124 pounds in the mile and a furlong test, Bardstown has seldom woneasier. His official margin was only half a length, but had jockey Willie Hartack let out all the stops, Bardstown could have had a six-length, or more, victory on his ledger.

A $3.20 for $2 favorite, Bardstown covered the mile and an eighth in 1.48 1/5. Blessbull, and Wise Margin, both hard urged all the way, were second and third, respectively.

JERSEY BELL STAKES

Another $25,000 race at Garden State, the Jersey Bell Stakes, was landed by Ada L. Rice's Pucker Up, who romped home a dozen lengths ahead of Little Pache and the favored Princee Turia.

SUFFOLK DOWNS

At Suffolk Downs, White Fence Stable's Super Bug got to the front at the start of the $10,000 Columbus Day Handicap and stayed there the entire nine furlongs in beating Mrs. R. V. Robidou's favored Deep Thought by a length. Chief Fanelli was third. Ridden by apprentice Carl Landers, Super Bug returned a solid $29.00 mutuel.

Star Rover, the heavy favorite, finished out of the money as B. A. Dario's Venomous accounted for the $10,000 John Alden

The artist writes: Smith Gordon started his career by sketching dogs for a few dollars, going from house to house. Later he opened a studio in Saks Fifth Avenue, New York and Beverly Hills, California. After a period of four years in the army he returned to the task of catching up again. Having painted most of the great champion dogs in the East, Gordon decided to try painting portraits of people on their horses. Such portraits are extremely difficult because of the smallness of the face, most artists being content with painting a shadowy likeness. Mr. Gordon's faces have expression and quality. Mrs. Ted Atkinson, having received a photo of the painting of her husband on War Piper, wrote a nice letter back saying it was the best portrait of her husband she had ever seen.

Smith Gordon is now assistant curator in charge of the art department for the Bruce Museum of Greenwich, Connecticut where he is known under his real name of Gordon Schmidt.

Handicap at the New England track the following afternoon. In earning his third straight handicap score, Venomous finished a length in front of O. H. Wienges and Son's Gunrod, with Eddie Siravo's Pine Echo third.

Covering the about seven furlongs in near track-record time of 1:27, Leallah clicked by two and a half lengths over Bluebilly in the $41,870 Stakes at Keeneland. Nantua was third and Magic Forest fourth.

BELMONT SALE OF HORSES IN TRAINING

Mr. and Mrs. Allie Reuben of the Hasty House Farms purchased the top horse at the Fasig-Tipton Company's sales of horses in training at Belmont Park (October 8-9) when they paid $31,000 for the 4-year-old colt Grandpaw (Sun Again-Alfoxe, by Bimelech) consigned by Mrs. W. Thorn Kissel. The second high dollar was obtained by Justin Funkhouser, whose 4-year-old filly Prompt Impulse (Noble Impulse-Price Level, by *Sickle), was purchased for $25,000 by Walter A. Kelly, Agent, who trains for Max Gluck's Elmendorf Farm. Kelly also purchased from the same consignment for $16,000 the 4-year-old War Relic filly En Casserole.

OUR APOLOGIES

The Chronicle inadvertently included Alice S. Reidy's official title, as Secretary of the U. S. Pony Clubs in a "Letter to the Editor", in our issue of October 5th which read: "Leaving out the horse show blurbs must be a help and it seems to me anyone can find out what they need to know about any show by reading the summaries." Mrs. Reidy wishes to emphasize that this opinion was purely personal, not an official pronouncement of the U. S. P. C.

BELAIR SHRINE PROPOSED

Belair, the 2400 acre estate of the late William Woodward, Jr. was sold to New York real estate developer William Zeckendorf. The mansion was built in 1746 for Gov. Samuel Ogle of Maryland. A proposal to make this famous Thoroughbred breeding farm into a turf shrine of some sort is in the works according to a Baltimore Evening Sun report. The Mansion offers a good start for a museum of horse racing. On its walls are paintings of Thoroughbreds and people connected with racing of the past as well as many trophies won by horses carrying the Woodward silks.

HARD-TO-BEAT-BETTY

Betty Baldwin was practically unbeatable at the Valley Forge show recently. She rode Valley Forge Farm's Far North to blues in the open, amateur, and working stake classes, beating her mother's Jayber which she piloted to ribbons in every class. Margaret McGinn managed to break the 'Betty streak' briefly in the handy class which she won with her much improved Cora Gay.

ENGLISH RHYME

In England there is a little rhyme which you may or may not have heard. It goes:

One white foot, buy it.
Two white feet, try it.
Three white feet, doubt it.
Four white feet, do without it.

Whoever made that one up must not have heard of Hyperion which won the English Derby in record time. So did Mahmoud for that matter and his white feet reach all the way up to his nose.

There is another version which goes like this:

Of one white stocking, make a pet.
Two white stockings, keep as yet.
Three white stockings, hold for aye.
Four white stockings, give away.

BUSTER BROODER WINS FARMER'S RACE

Tom O'Reilly has the following story to tell in one of his recent columns in Triangle Publications: "Strolling through Belmont's beautifully tree-shaded barn village, I stopped and rang the bell at Ray Woolfe's attractive cottage, the very last one built on the grounds. Ray has been a racing pal of mine ever since the day, years ago, when he turned up at a United Hunts meeting staged on some fancy Long Island estate, with a mare owned by Buster Brooder, a New Jersey chicken farmer."

"W. A. La Boyteaux had given this chicken farmer a sterile Thoroughbred mare who was half sister to a stakes winner. The well-named Brooder entered her in a couple of races 'for farmers' horses' at the Monmouth County and Far Hills hunt race meetings and naturally won the blankets right off the backs of her sway-backed rivals. At this United Hunts affair she was entered, with Woolfe as trainer, against horses owned by the very cream of Long Island's hunting set. She won and when the farmer appeared to be photographed in the socially desirable winner's circle, wearing a patched wind-breaker and with what looked suspiciously like egg-shells on his shoes, it was all considered quite, quite quaint. Profitable, too!"

BOOTS AND SADDLES

The riding school known as Boots and Saddles, founded in 1927 by Colonel Prince Kadir Azamat Guirey, has recently been incorporated as Boots and Saddles Foundation, Inc. under the New York Membership Corporation Law as a foundation for education and training in the art of equitation. Assets of the corporation include some thirty acres of land with appropriate stables, etc., near Goldens Bridge, New York. It is planned to finance the organization through its own fees and from a fund to be set up for tax deductible contributions by alumni and patrons of the school. The Directors are Captain Chingis Guirey, Phyllis Brown French and Frederick O. McKenzie.

TALLY-HO RETIRED

The recent Gray Horse Farm Hunter & Jumper Show saw the final appearance of a grand old timer of the Texas horse world. At the age of twenty, Tally-Ho owned by Whitney Donaldson Abt, was retired. After fourteen years of continuous showing as both an open jumper and a working hunter it was felt he had deserved a rest for the remainder of his life. There were many who laughed at him but he somehow always managed to win and he beat the best. At his last show he was working hunter champion. Miss Janet Allison of Houston was given the honor of showing him in his last class.

PAN AMERICAN GAMES

Colonel Earl Thomson of Nashville, a member of three U. S. Equestrian Teams is to be invited to Cleveland to help with the organization of the equestrian events of the Pan American Games in 1959. It is planned to construct a cross-country for the three day event in the Chagrin Valley hunt country. The Prix des Nations or jumping event will be held in the Municipal Stadium which seats over 80,000 people. The Grand Prix de Dressage event will possibly be held there as well. Cooperating with the committee will be the American Horse Shows Association which is the body representing the Federation Equestre Internationale in this country.

THREE IN A ROW

Apropos of the recent Warrenton Show, it was nice to see Bobby Burke win the Three-Year-Old Champion of Virginia trophy for the third year in succession. He won it with Templeton Stables' Star Time in 1954, with Mrs. Warner Atkin's Corpond in 1955, and again with Templeton Stables' Camada in 1956. Bit O Honey, the reserve Three Year Old Champion who is now owned by Miss Peggy Augustus, embarked on his winning career in the Burke stable also. C.C.

SHATTERED DREAMS

Columnist Joseph Kaselow, writing in The Herald Tribune of October 8th, comments on The Chronicle as follows: "Who'd Have Guessed It?: A nineteen-year-old publication called 'The Chronicle', devoted to enthusiasts of polo, horse breeding, racing and hunting, announces that it is opening its pages to national advertising for the first time. In this connection it has surveyed its readers and come up with the information that the Chronicle "family" has an average income of $41,883; owns 2.4 autos; travels over 18,000 miles a year; controls over 400 acres of land; has an annual store liquor bill of $421.90 and owns eleven Thoroughbred horses. The survey is entitled, "This Is Not an Average Family."

"There they go, shattering our dreams again."

OTTERHOUNDS GUARD DUBLIN ZOO

When Mr. Maxie Cosgrave, Veterinary Surgeon, telephoned me to ask where he could get reliable otterhounds for the Dublin Zoo, I thought it a strange request, until I learnt that they were needed for work, not for exhibition. Fourteen rare birds, valued at 300 pounds had been killed in four days. They included two rare black Australian swans and their two cygnets, two Russian Redbreast geese, and two Bar-Head geese.

Everything pointed to destruction being the work of an otter. The chances of a fox or a killer-dog getting into the Zoo were remote, whereas an otter might get access through one of the many underground streams leading to and from the lakes and ponds.

I advised getting in touch with Mr. Ned White, honorary huntsman of the Cork City Otterhound Hunt Club, and a couple of his otterhounds arrived in Dublin Zoo the same night. They now help the armed keepers to keep a day and night vigil for the mysterious killer.

This is probably the most exacting task these otterhounds have ever tackled. They have to depend entirely on the accuracy of their noses, but it will be almost impossible for them to find the scent of an otter in an area inhabited by lions, monkeys, polar bears, camels, elephants and other animals. Unless the otterhounds can get a scent which is only seconds old or can actually view their quarry, their task will be difficult. The seals in the pools increase these difficulties.

Otters have been seen in the vicinity of the Zoo and in the nearby lake in the Phoenix Park, while they are probably very numerous in the river Liffey on the southern boundry of the park. S. L.

Four-Year-Old Mare

In foal to Never Say Die

AMERICAN-BRED WINNER OF ENGLISH DERBY AND ST. LEGER

*By Nasrullah out of War Admiral Mare

TENARE

STAKES WINNER AT 2 AND 3, AMONG HIGHWEIGHT FILLIES ON FRENCH FREE HANDICAP

The auctioning of *Tenare presents an unusual opportunity for the discriminating American breeder to secure a truly top-flight young race mare in foal to one of the distinguished horses of our time.

It is true that all European races are named and are frequently confused by Americans as stakes races. *Tenare's wins did not fall into the category of the usual. She won the five furlong Prix de Saint-Firmin beating Hafiz (regarded by many as the best middle distance horse in France the next year), and was rated at 112 lbs. on the Handicap Optional. She was one of the Highweight fillies of the year.

A filly that can win sprints at 2 and distance races at 3 is one of your surest bets for "Performers as Producers." *Tenare won at a mile and at 1 7/16 miles and then won the important Prix Auriban at 1 1/2 miles. She earned the respectable amount of 2,200,500 francs.

*Tenare is by Tabriz, one of the best sons of Tehran at stud in Europe. *Tenare's dam, *Heldensage, was foaled in Germany and won in America at 4. Returned to France she has produced a 2-year-old which is about to start and a yearling colt by Worden.

The next dam was the brilliant filly Cos, dam of the Eclipse winner Rustom Pasha, the Middle Park winner Costaki Pasha, and the leading filly Mrs. Rustom, dam and granddam of a host of top stakes performers.
